SOLAFLEX

SOLAFLEX

SolaFlex is an innovative product from Metalcraft Solar which complements our espan® 470 roof system

Solaflex is an alternate form of integrated Solar technology, which comes in the form of a flexible strip with an adhesive backing that adheres directly to the roof surface.

This innovative and fully integrated solar solution offers all the benefits of generating your own energy without compromising the overall aesthetics of your home.

We offer a turn key supply and installation service, and complementary battery solutions if required; as well as a full range of conventional solar options should that be preferred.
